U. S. ENLISTS DR. KUNO'S AID TO FOIL JAPANESE

Department of Justice Agents Secure Evidence On Schemes of Nippon

U. C. Professor Gives Installment Telling of Projects of Japanese Here to Administer Own Affairs

CONTROL BY "ASSOCIATIONS"

Cognizance was taken by federal authorities today of the startling disclosures of Professor Yoshi S. Kuno of the University of California in his report on the Japanese situation when government agents both at San Francisco and Washington enlisted his co-operation. The federal action came at the moment when hitherto secret data on the Japanese organization of a government of their own within this state was about to be detailed by Professor Kuno in his narrative exclusively in The TRIBUNE. This climactic feature of his report is printed in this issue.

Department of Justice agents at San Francisco, particularly interested in Professor Kuno's promise of disclosures of methods of Japanese propaganda, waited upon him at his residence in Berkeley. He was able to place considerable valuable information in their hands and to indicate where other was to be secured.

Upon the heels of this visit was a request from Washington, whether from the State Department or not, Professor Kuno declined to say, asking a full text of his report. Professor Kuno at once forwarded, with a letter of explanation, such portions of the report as already had appeared in the columns of THE TRIBUNE. This report, it is understood, will assist in crystallizing an ultimate policy of this country as regards the Japanese situation.

To-day's installment of Professor Kuno's narrative reached the apex of its importance, dealing as it does with the quietly but effectively-conducted projects of the Japanese in California, for administering their own affairs. It denies the Japanese claims that their association has no connection with the imperial government.

DECLARATES JAPAN STRIKES WITHOUT WARNING

In addition, Professor Kuno makes in this installment one of his most significant statements. Japan is a proud nation, he says, albeit it is one willing to make concessions. When Japan has reached what it considers its limit strikes and strikes without warning. So, he adds:

"Despite the fact that Japan is a friendly nation, the Japanese association in California is a most delicate one, demanding cautious diplomacy."

This, from a Japanese, was among the contents of the report which led President David P. Barrows of the University of California to pronounce it "startling and important."

Professor Kuno's expose of the Japanese Association system, the quasi-government which the Japanese maintain in California as in other states, is couched in no general terms, but goes to such details as how the association is composed, who are its officers, what are the dues, how it conducts propaganda, how it works with the Japanese communities and related matters. Moreover, Professor Kuno has drawn his examples from this very neighborhood, giving a detailed analysis of Japanese Association branches in Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and San Francisco.

The moot question of Japanese schools and their moral and physical fitness are also considered. At the conclusion of the installment, Professor Kuno begins consideration of the economic problem of the Japanese in California, a major detail in the whole problem which he will continue to discuss tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Scovell

Scovell, War Hero, Lecturer, Seems Missing

Friends Cannot Locate Him After Dates Are Cancelled: Wife Says On Tour.

Failure of Ben Scovell, war hero, actor and lecturer, to keep his lecturing engagements before the various clubs in East Bay lack of explanation as to his whereabouts, has occasioned some apprehension and speculation on the part of his many friends.

Mrs. Scovell, bride of but a few months, is away on a lecture tour that she is not returning to the states until next summer. In her absence, there is no trace in the reports of a separation between them; and that if she has any statement to make, she will make it later.

That something had suddenly altered Scovell's plans for a lecture tour in the East Bay was discovered more than a week ago when he did not show up at the meeting of the Berkeley Over seas Club, where he was scheduled to speak.

Those in charge of the arrangements for the Scovell Club of Berkeley, where he is programmed to speak this evening, say that they have been unable to find him or any information as to where he may be found. The Adelphian Club, Alameda, has also advertised Scovell as a speaker tomorrow, reports the same experience.

NOTE OF JAPANESE ASSOCIATION TOLD

Now, in order to determine whether this Japanese association may be rightly termed a quasi-government, let us inquire into its organization, taking the associations of the bay cities as examples. The Japanese in these districts have their respective local Japanese associations in San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, and elsewhere.

Members of the Japanese Association told:

"There is no one who seems to be able to find Mr. Scovell," said Miss Gerrette of the club. "We have been trying, but without success. He is not to speak tomorrow, it would seem, although we had made plans for him to do so."

In some of Scovell's literature he gave his address as the Y. M. C. A. of San Francisco, where it is said stacks of mail is awaiting him.

NO ONE SEEKS ABLE TO LOCATE LECTURER

ONE DEAD, ONE DYING; CYCLES HIT MOTOR

SAN MATEO, Oct. 27.—Edmund Garber was instantly killed in a romance of fifteen years and one that started in school days at Colorado Springs. A nephew of Sir Henry Irving, Scovell had a varied career. He was a gas oil, electrician, fireman, a gas man of Hayward and representative of that city at the Olympic games. He died yesterday at H. H. Bierbaum was not injured.

BLACK-AND-TAN RAID CONDUCTED ON DUBLIN BANK

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 27.—While troops patrolled the neighboring streets auxiliary police ("black and tan") raided a branch Munster Bank early today. The raid was kept in the municipality of Dublin, and kept in this institution. Experts examined the books for several hours while the soldiers and police kept guard.

BELFAST, Oct. 27.—Rioting broke out at St. Matthew's chapel today. Troops were rushed to the scene in an armored car and dispersed the rioters.

NO "SUICIDE" MENTION BY EARL C. REEVES

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—A verdict that Terence MacSwiney, late lord mayor of Cork, died of heart failure was returned by the coroner's jury this afternoon. The verdict did not mention "suicide."

The finding of the coroner's jury was that: "The deceased died of heart failure, due to dilated heart and acute delirium, following scurvy due to exhaustion and following a prolonged refusal to take food."

The coroner refused permission to ship the body to Ireland for burial on the ground that it was outside his jurisdiction.

Members of the MacSwiney family immediately appealed to the home office to lift the coroner's embargo against the removal of the body from England.

Preparations had already been made for the burial of the late lord mayor at Cork on Sunday. A grave had been reserved for him in the plot allotted to Irish volunteers who "fell in action."

CORK AWAITING BODY

CORK, Oct. 27.—Outside of the Cork City Hall there was posted today the following notice:

"The second Republican lord mayor of Cork lies, as lay his predecessor, murdered by the British Government. Cork is in mourning. Citizens or any section of them will take only authorized action. Orders will be issued by proper authority."

Today passed quietly with the exception of a slight affair of military raids on banks in search of firearms placed in vaults for safe keeping. Soldiers not on duty were restricted to their barracks. The body of Joseph Murphy, one of the hunger strikers in Cork jail, who died last night, was removed tonight to a church from which the funeral will be held tomorrow. With the exception of Kenney and Donovan, who are believed to be rapidly nearing death, doctors say there is still a chance to save the lives of the remaining hunger strikers, if they are released.

FUNERAL ARRANGED

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Relatives of the Mayor of Cork were today completing arrangements for his funeral. It was expected the body would be turned over to them by government authorities for the autopsy set for this morning, and plans already announced contemplate its removal to St. George's cathedral.

It will probably remain until Thursday when a requiem mass will be celebrated, after which the funeral procession will start for Euston station where it will arrive about 4 o'clock, when the procession will line up and be dismissed. The body will probably reach Dublin early Friday and there will be received by various organizations.

MASS FOR MACSWINEY

BALTIMORE, Oct. 27.—Cardinal Gibbons is expected to preside at a solemn requiem mass for Lord MacSwiney at the Cathedral at 10:30 o'clock next Wednesday.

The service has been arranged by representatives of local Irish societies who are in touch with Cardinal Gibbons at his residence.

The names of Michael Fitzgerald and Joseph Murphy, two Irish hunger strikers who died in Cork jail, also will be remembered in the prayers.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Terence MacSwiney weighed but 75 pounds when he died in a Dublin jail after a hunger strike of nearly 44 days, it was learned today. He weighed 155 pounds when he began his fast on August 12.

practically three sorts of Japanese government; viz., the office of the consul general, which represents the Japanese government directly, the Central Japanese association, and the Local Japanese association. The central association supervises all the 40 local associations in its district, in behalf of the office of the consul general. In case a local association should disown, conduct itself with too great independence, or commit any irregularity, the consul general's office, upon the advice of the central association, would deprive it of all rights and privileges such as

MARRIAGES MADE BY EXCHANGE OF PHOTOGRAPHS

Note. Through an interval in portions of the following were omitted from yesterday's installment of Professor Kuno's report. As it deals with one of his most interesting themes, the picture gives the editor's opinion and its context are here restored to make his narrative complete.

The Japanese in the state hold an annual assembly corresponding somewhat to the California State assembly. This assembly is composed of delegates sent by the local associations. There is also another assembly held annually which may be likened unto the California State assembly, in that only the masters of the various local associations are entitled to sit in that assembly.

The purpose of the Japanese association, quoting from the regulations of that in Berkeley, "to defend, protect, and guard Japanese interests and privileges against the outside, and to maintain and establish peace and harmony in our society, that they may receive all benefits."

The coroner refused permission to ship the body to Ireland for burial on the ground that it was outside his jurisdiction.

LARGE SUM RAISED BY FEES COLLECTED.

Quite a considerable sum is netted annually from the fees collected. This money is largely expended for the purpose of maintaining which is cleverly and skillfully carried on that the Japanese are able to utilize some of our leading educational institutions in the spread of their teachings, either by paying the salaries of Japanese instructors whom they place in said institutions or by enrolling unprincipled American professors who write articles and give lectures from material supplied by the Japanese association.

Whether the Japanese association exists a school is generally established under its auspices. Most Japanese children are thus obliged to attend two schools. They attend the regular American public school from 9 to 3, and after school hours they have to go to the Japanese school, where they study from texts prepared for use in the schools in Japan. Thus these children while being saved from double system of education, which is in violation of penal law, have instilled into them two codes of morality and two loyalties. The Japanese conduct these schools in a most official way. In the city or town, there is Berkeley, for example, if I understand correctly, this board consists of about twenty members.

Let us now take up the question of the condition of the Japanese in California. Japanese labor is often mistakenly termed "cheap labor." However, the Japanese charge almost as much as do workmen of almost any other nationality. They also prove higher bidders when buying an unharvested crop in the field. The Japanese are able to pay higher for crops because they live in barracks and their food is exceedingly plain and cheap. Therefore the trouble in California is not that the Japanese are cheap laborers, but that they have wonderful saving capacity. Within a few years, those who started as common laborers have often either become land owners or amassed sufficient capital to purchase standing crops. Because of this, the Japanese, and the American farmer, the former has been able to encroach upon the production of agricultural products.

bureau of the Friends of Irish Free State announced today.

Headed by Frank P. Walsh, former chairman of the war labor board, the delegation was received by Secretary Colby at the State Department this evening at 8 o'clock.

The committee will consist of James K. McGuire, former mayor of Syracuse, N. Y.; Eugene Kinead, former member of Congress from Connecticut; Joseph McGarrity, Philadelphia; John W. Goff, New York, and others of prominence in the Irish cause.

Fugitives Fight Police in Auto; Two Men Slain

Third Suspect and Officer Are Wounded in Running Battle

Near L. A.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27.—Two unidentified men, believed to have been Mexicans, were shot and killed early today near El Monte, 15 miles east of here, when Motorcycle Officer John J. Alder of El Monte and George Hamlin, an El Monte garage owner, attempted to arrest them for alleged suspicious actions.

Selvino M. Perez and Alder were wounded during exchanges of shots.

Therefore, marriages in Japan require neither license nor registration. It is effected by the transfer of the records of the bride from the official register of her family to that of the bridegroom. The wedding ceremony is merely a private affair. In 1917, the secretary of labor of the United States government officially stated: "The validity of marriages of picture brides should be recognized by the United States government unless or until it is definitely shown that they are not legal marriages under the law of Japan."

So far it has not been proven that the picture bride marriages are illegal. Has it not been a long-established rule among nations that each country should recognize as valid marriages consummated in other countries in accordance with the laws and customs of said countries? The Japanese in California have no right to legal send for picture brides.

However, in this as in other vexatious questions, the Japanese government has again come to the rescue. In order to avoid further trouble in February, 1920, Japan abruptly and strictly prohibited the issuing of passports to picture brides. Thus the famous picture bride was foiled. Most unexpectedly, this act of good will on the part of Japan has come in furnish a vicious weapon in the hands of demagogues.

ACCOUNTS FOR COMING OF PICTURE BRIDES.

After the prohibitory measure was put in force, picture brides still continued to come. Thereupon certain statesmen and anti-Japanese agitators publicly charged the Japanese government with breaking faith. Had they but devoted a brief hour investigating the subject, they would have found the explanation in the fact that after the breaking out of the European war it became very difficult to obtain ocean transportation. For the past three or four years it has been almost impossible to get a ticket, especially for the steamer. Therefore, to meet emergencies, Japanese makers passports effective for a period of six months from date of issue.

When in February picture brides received its death blow, there were in Japan several hundred, or perhaps as many as a thousand young women who, having already provided with passports, could legally come to America by leaving Japan before the end of August. Does not this account for the coming of picture brides as late as September? Is there any ground for the accusation that the Japanese government has broken its pledge? Should the Japanese government issue passports to such, it would be a violation of the "Gentlemen's Agreement," and the Immigration Act in San Francisco and elsewhere would have a perfect right to prevent the landing of such persons. Even if they managed to land, they might later be arrested and deported. Probably Japan is one of the few countries in the world whose family records are officially kept. It is therefore impossible for one to illegally receive a passport unless the government participates in the deceit. So far we have heard of no cases in the immigration office in violation of the immigration act.

AMENDMENT 13 IS ATTACKED BY R. M. FITZGERALD

Government of Laws, Not of Men, Is Issue, Says Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The Republican party "walks the high road of American government for Americans" and "the American people walk with that party," Governor Coolidge declared in a final pre-election statement made public here last night.

The many legal complications and imperfections of the Community Property Amendment, numbered 15 on the ballot, were pointed out by Robert M. Fitzgerald, former president of the California Bar Association, before the Bankers Association at the Oakland Clearing House last night.

"It is impossible," Fitzgerald said, "to force law far too far... this piece of legislation would confiscate property titles and probate in general, but there are sufficient obvious results to condemn the bill as legal dynamite."

"The Republican party," the candidate asserted, "stands upon the government such legislation as shall guarantee a fair return for labor performed and that it is entitled to receive a just compensation for its aggressions from a competition based upon a scale of social existence alien and repugnant to American ideals of self-respect and American demands of material comfort."

The shores of history are strewn with the wreckage of republics which fell before the ambitions of legal proceeding, and there is doubtless a time to come when the blight of an otherwise personal legislation."

PEACE PROBLEMS PERILLED

Governor Coolidge's statement says in conclusion:

"The problems of peace are not less important than those of war. They demand as high dedication and loyalty as fulfillment from those entrusted with the administration of justice, as with the temporal affairs, as with the spiritual."

With the purpose of ending it with honor, victory and speed, that the return may be made to peace. Peace is the normal state of man; we have abandoned it only under dire circumstances.

Under the present law, only the community property and the husband's separate property could be held liable.

"Every precaution is taken under the present law to protect the woman from her husband's carelessness or wrongdoing. The proposed legislation would destroy this protection, either by making the wife liable for the business debts of her husband, or requiring her to sign a general waiver of all her rights in the community property, a situation which would allow for untold chicanery not at all possible under the present law.

CHILDREN LOSERS

The children under the amendment are disinherited completely if either parent die without a will, or with a will that might be invalidated by the surviving spouse.

Imagine the courageous situation of a father or mother benefiting directly through the injury of the children, for the surviving spouse should there be no will, would take the entire community property to the total exclusion of the children.

The unprecedented consent clause which makes the written consent of the surviving spouse necessary should property be willed by the other to anyone except the children, is fraught with unlimited possibilities for deceit and double dealing on the part of the very small class which any legislation of this sort is.

Sensible citizens are doing their utmost at all times to provide for the very best that is in them for their wives and children, and no law is necessary to coerce them into doing the duty they are already performing. Every thinking citizen will vote "no" without hesitation on this very injurious measure.

Johnson Makes Two Speeches in Detroit

MICHIGAN, Oct. 27.—Senator Huron W. Johnson of California, presidential primary candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, spoke in opposition to the League of Nations before two large audiences here last night. Johnson said:

"Senator Harding never would consent to this country's entrance into and out of the League. He never gave his consent to such a step."

Senator Johnson declared yesterday that the Rhenish Union had admitted him to the Rhenish Union in the fight against Japanese occupation of the state. Senator Phelan said:

"The atrocities of Japan in Korea, where Christianized Koreans are victims of ruthlessness, should have caused shame and suggested silence at this time. Their prayer is: 'For God's sake save California on the basis of a false sentimentalism.'

Not only are American institutions and American homes threatened by Japanese invasion attracted here by land lust but Christianity itself. It is too bad our Eastern brethren should be so obtuse and yield so easily in the influences of the Japanese propaganda.

"Eighty-four Shinto, or Buddhist temples, have been established in California to save Japanese children from Christian teachings, and after school hours what they learned in Americanism in the public schools."

Upon his arrival at Sacramento, Senator Phelan was informed by his San Francisco office that Secretary W. G. McAdoo had issued a statement in his behalf in relation to the Senator's favorable attitude towards railroad men, calling particular attention to the fact that Senator Phelan voted for the Adamson law, which is the greatest law for railroad employees."

It was the Adamson law that fixed the eight-hour day for railroaders, thereby uniting their numerical strength.

Socialists Appeal For Support For Debts

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—The national executive committee of the Socialists has issued a final appeal urging Socialists sympathizers and supporters to vote for Eugene V. Debs and Seymour Steedman nominees for president and vice-president respectively.

The appeal says in part:

"The servility of the Republicans and Democratic party to the financial and capitalist oligarchy is as notorious as the servility of the Whig and Democratic parties to a handful of slave owners and slave traders in the declining days of slavery."

"The record of domestic reaction at home equals their record of brutal conquests overseas. If Democratic rule is not halted in Haiti and San Domingo is a shocking and brutal overthrow of sister republics and military rule in the interests of American bankers, it should not be forgotten that all this merely follows the example set by the Republicans in the conquest of Hawaii and the Philippines. The American imperialists now has a half dozen little dominions to the one possessed by the former German ruling class."

POLICE ON GUARD FOR TONG FIGHTS IN CHINATOWN

Although no disturbance had been noted today, police of Chinatown keep a close eye on the Chinese quarter here following the shooting by tong men of Louie Hong, Chinese merchant in his store at 743 Grant Avenue, in San Francisco last night.

San Francisco police were actively at work through the night to prevent the start of a general "tong war," half hours after one of the heads of a tongs was killed.

Four of the slayers were arrested when found carrying revolvers and ammunition.

One of the slayers was caught by George Hippolyte, detective of San Francisco. One escaped. Two men members of the Hop Sing Tong, the police said, were on the scene.

When the gunmen cast their shot, the gunners cast their shots, pursued, himself firing. The man who was caught as he dashed into a store on Commercial street between Grant and Kearny said he was Wong Jung, 21 years old, and was Wong.

The police said Wong and his partner, who is 16, were members of the Hop Sing Tong, which Louie had refused to pay.

There was general excitement in Chinatown in San Francisco after the shooting and the news caused a stir when it reached Oakland celestials. The Hop Sing Tong was having a meeting when the San Francisco detectives came in and searched those present taking away several men.

The police are determined by decisive action to forestall a general tong fight, if possible.

Clearance is Given Accused Navy Man

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Commander William L. Culbertson, U. S. N., who is en route to the Orient, after having escaped service of a warrant for his arrest by hiding aboard the transport Sherman shortly before the vessel cleared from San Francisco on October 15, will be detained by naval officials, according to despatches from Honolulu, received here today.

The warrant charged Culbertson with failure to provide for the 18-month-old baby of Edna Merrill, a San Diego girl, who was taken from the transport Sherman, where she had secreted herself in an effort to follow Culbertson.

According to the girl's complaint, Culbertson is the father of her baby. The warrant was applied for when she learned that he was about to sail for the Orient.

Rancher's Life is Saved By Serum

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Joe Mespote, an employee on one of the big ranches near Gilroy, is a patient in the University of California Hospital, where he is recovering from anthrax in its most malignant form after having been given a quantity of anti-anthrax serum, which is made from the blood recommended by the physician, according to Dr. W. E. Musgrave, director of the hospital.

Had it not been for anti-anthrax serum, Mespote would undoubtedly have died. He owes his life to the use of antiseptics for experimental purposes. Hospital attendants state that the manufacture of this serum causes no pain whatsoever to the animal and does not necessitate the sacrifice of its life.

THE GHOST APPEARS.

The piano played romantic music. Then came some sound of heavy breathing; then silence. At last the ghost began to walk. It came at a kind of pillar or wide step of thin vapor so thin and impalpable as a breath of mist vanishing into the blue of a summer sky. It frightened me.

"The ghost," I said, "was thin and impalpable as a breath of mist vanishing into the blue of a summer sky. It frightened me."

WAR MEMORIAL PLAN ENDORSED

Four of the largest civic and labor organizations in Oakland went on record last evening as endorsing the $225,000 bond issue providing for the purchase of a War Veterans' Memorial clubhouse for the use of all the ex-service men in the city. Not a dissentient vote was registered against the project by the following organizations who unanimously pledged the former soldiers their united support in carrying the same to a successful conclusion: The Oakland Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants Exchange of Oakland, the Centralization Council and the Building Trades Council.

Headed by Art L. Young, temporary chairman of the ex-service men's committee, which is composed of representatives from every soldier's organization in this city, a delegation of ex-service men first waited on the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, which was in session under the direction of President Winter, C. G.

They requested the chamber's support for the bond issue, and the question was immediately put to a vote, being carried unanimously. The delegation next waited on the board of directors of the Merchants Exchange, which was also in session.

"We are with you from start to finish," said President Winter, and the Merchants Exchange has no hesitancy in endorsing this project."

The same reception was accorded the delegation at both the executive meeting of the Central Labor Council and the Building Trades Council.

AT MILLS COLLEGE

POLICEMAN DYING; BEATEN BY THUGS

The student body of Mills College last night entered the presidential campaign with a Republican mass meeting in the college auditorium, with Mrs. Harry A. Klugel, of San Francisco, the speaker of the evening. The meeting was presided over by Dr. A. E. Wilson, president of Mills College and the college board. It resulted in the organization of the Mills College Student Republican club, one of the first to be organized at a girl's school in California.

Preceding the rally, Mrs. Klugel was entertained at a dinner by members of the faculty. Her talk before the student body followed in part the development of the United States as the government of parties. It becomes the supreme duty at this time for women to form their party affiliations as the result of investigation and study instead of voting as the result of prejudice and passion.

"Senator Harding has made a point of promising that he means to call into consultation the able women of America as well as the American men," she said.

"Senator Harding bases his belief in the future of women's activities in American life on the fact that a further extension of these activities must be further attained through the fulfillment of that most precious of all American possessions, American motherhood. His task before American women is assuming responsibility of citizenship."

"The Republican party has been characterized by a history of constructive progressivism which has won for it the right of the women's vote. It has been the most powerful force in practical progressivism in the United States. It has been formulated the greatest statutes, written the greatest laws, advanced and carried out the policies which made this country great."

Men Indicted in Booze Ring
Probe Are Released on Bonds

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Accompanied by his mother, wife and brother, Jules Gannage, liquor dealer, defendant in the probe yesterday by the Federal grand jury in connection with the booze scandal surrendered to the United States marshal, and after being arraigned before the United States commissioner, obtained his liberty on $10,000 bonds. His mother, who identified herself as being a militant suffragette and closely concerned with Women's Democratic party activities, was one of his son's sureties.

Now a dissident vote was registered against the project by the following organizations who unanimously pledged the former soldiers their united support in carrying the same to a successful conclusion: The Oakland Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants Exchange of Oakland, the Centralization Council and the Building Trades Council.

Builders Agree To Take Berkeley Bonds

BERKELEY, Oct. 27.—For the first time since the construction program of the Berkeley schools was put into operation, contractors have agreed to accept bonds voted by the city in large amounts.

Bonds for the construction of a new high school were opened yesterday by the school officials, with all of the contractors agreeing to accept the school securities in payment of their services.

Action on the part of the contractors is taken as an indication by the board that its difficulties in marketing bonds and carrying on its school program are over.

Local contractors yesterday wired the school officials to the effect that they would accept the bonds.

Harding Will Win,

A national landslide for Harding and an enormous tourist travel for California this winter are several of the things observed in the east by W. R. Alger, general manager of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway, who recently returned from Atlantic City where the American Electric Railway association held its annual convention.

"All indications are for Harding avalanche, beyond the shadow of a doubt," he said. "I talked to many persons in the trains, hotels and conventions, and I did not meet a single man who was going to vote for Coolidge."

He also met many Democrats, some from Southern states, who were for Harding.

"The people want a change."

"One question was asked me continually: 'Folks wanted to know, 'Would California redeem itself at the coming election?'

Jewelry, Coin Are Stolen From Homes

Mrs. Ruth Neuner, 557 Forty-seventh street, has complained to the police of the theft of a bank containing $100 together with the loss of several articles of jewelry when some one entered her home.

Shoplifters made a silk shirt haul from Isidor Sherman, storekeeper, at 5715 San Pablo avenue, yesterday, according to his wife, the police say.

Mrs. J. T. Coyne, 375 Lake Shore avenue, says her apartment was looted of jewelry and clothing worth several hundred dollars.

A purse containing $50 in currency and a $30 Liberty bond was stolen from Mrs. M. Fogarty, 1926 Franklin street, while she was downtown shopping, she says.

JURIST LAUDS ROOSEVELT AT CLUB LUNCHEON

"In this country they call Roosevelt a politician; in Europe they call him 'Roosevelt's caliber statesman,'" declared Judge W. H. Donahue, speaking at the Oakland Advertising Club's luncheon at the Hotel California yesterday noon. Judge Donahue but recently returned from a tour of Europe, where he visited the battlefields. The custom is to honor the character of former President Roosevelt and to uphold the ideals of true Americanism was given him yesterday at the luncheon, which was given in memory of Roosevelt, whose birthday was October 27.

PRaised BY PASTOR

Rev. F. W. Silsley, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, delivered the principal address, which he constantly referred to Roosevelt's sacrifice of personal gain in order to accomplish the things for his country that he had set out to bring about. He spoke of Roosevelt's character, his love for his country, his devotion to all things that were right and just.

Judge Donahue, who was the principal speaker of the day, declared that Roosevelt in public life was an honest man. He said that Marshal Foch of France remained him a great deal of Roosevelt. He compared the character of the two men to show that they were of the same metal and possessed the same ideals in life.

VISIT TO WAR ZONE

Speaking of his trip through devastated battle fields, he said:

"After seeing with my own eyes the destruction of northern France and after having visited the battle-fields where our soldiers fought, I am here to tell you that we cannot do too much for the former service men. We are a little ungrateful and not as thoughtful of the boys who fought as we ought to be."

"I visited Bellenglise and saw as the French generals pointed out to the party of Americans I was with, how our men, after lying at the foot of a hill in a ravine, charged the hill and launched that terrific punch that started the Germans on the run. I saw at the foot of that hill 239 white crosses that mark the graves of those who fell within a space of two hours during that fierce fight. I saw an airplane hit the ground from evidence of the terrific fighting our men went through during the months of July, August and September of 1918."

VISITED CEMETERIES

"No man here in the United States can fully appreciate what our soldiers did for us until he has seen what I witnessed on my trip to the front. No man can begin to comprehend the hardships that they had to put up with, and no one of you can fully realize what war is actually like until you have seen its mark in Europe. I saw ground where not one square foot of earth was left untouched by the thousands of shells that rained down on it. How a man could live in such a hole I do not pretend to understand. But thousands of our men lived through it, and are ungrateful of what they did and the sacrifices they made."

"I visited the cemetery at Romagne and there I saw 28,000 white crosses, row on row. In our party were five fathers whose sons lay in that huge graveyard. After having visited the cemetery, the fathers came away determined to leave the bodies of their sons in the earth upon which they fought and died. I do not think there is a parent living who would want to remove a son, or relative, from his grave in France if they could but visit the battle-fields.

URGES REWARD

"When men fall like our men fought at Verdun, Thiepval and later at St. Mihiel and in the Argonne, through the mud and mire and the rain of shells that constantly poured down on them, you cannot expect them to go through the same thing again, should the dire necessity arrive, unless we show our gratefulness."

"We want defenders now. We can't get them. It is because we fail to realize how little appreciation we show them for their just heroic deeds. If the people of America could but realize what I now realize, there would be a parade in every city in the United States tomorrow, the bonus bill would be passed by a special meeting of Congress and every former service man would be given the very best of employment possible."

LURENED TO TRIPOLI

Fred L. Mellman, commander of Oakland Post, No. 5, of the American Legion, speaking as a private citizen, spoke on amendments No. 1 and No. 2 concerning Civil Service. He pictured civil service in Oakland as a tripod. To take away one leg of the tripod, he said, would let civil service down on the ground.

"To take away the people's rights from disinterested parties, the Civil Service Commission, is to take away in the hands of the commissioner of public health and safety, means that the commissioner at once becomes the prosecutor, the Judge and the executioner," Mellman said. "A man who is discharged by the commissioner is guilty in the act which caused his removal. To appeal this to the commissioner would be like going back to beg your employer to hire you after you had been discharged by him."

Judge Donahue also reiterated the points made by Mellman.

"Civil Service has been referred to as a tripod," he said. "To remove one of the three legs, namely the right of Civil Service employees to appeal, would be tearing down Civil Service. The amendments should be defeated."

Northern Colorado Miners To Strike

DENVER, Oct. 27.—Twenty-five hundred coal miners of the northern Colorado fields will go out on strike tomorrow and remain out "until operators agree to a conference" on their demands for a working agreement and wage adjustment, was the announcement made today by officials of the United Mine Workers of America, following a meeting of miners last night when it was voted 3 to 1 to walk out.

Officials of the state industrial commission declared such a walkout would be a violation of the law.

HICKORY WAIST AND GARTERS FOR GIRLS AND BOYS

Made with a mother's watchful care

You'll delight in the thought that there is at least one large, busy manufacturer who puts so much thoughtful care and painstaking effort into garment your youngsters need. Hickory Waists are made in all sizes from 2 to 14 and they fit as though they were tailored especially for you. The body is made of fine mercerized satin—wears well and washes wonderfully. The sensible front breast strap holds the waist comfortably and securely. All buttons are genuine unbreakable bone and the protected pin tube attachment prevents the garter pin from bending or breaking.

The Hickory Waist may be had with or without garters. When garters are needed—the nationally known and nationally shown Hickory Garters are what the better stores usually show first. At any rate—get the Hickory.

An Acre All Your Own—

Think what it would mean to you to have an acre of ground about your home. Room to plant trees, flowers—vegetables, if you wish. Room for the children to grow strong and rugged in the fresh air; to play without disturbing the neighbors; to have pets. Freedom for the grown-ups, and privacy, too. And then—if you had an acre, or even a half acre you could build the kind of a house you'd like. Spread it out over plenty of ground, to save the wife so much running up and down stairs, or build high with plenty of sleeping porches and outdoor rooms. Surely an acre is the thing!

MONTCLAIR

—the new residence district now being opened back of Piedmont will interest you. There are 2500 acres in Montclair, all—excepting the 20-acre town-site—to be sold in acre and half-acre homesites. Of course, you may buy several acres if you wish. Every homesite in Montclair has a marked individuality. Forty per cent of the property is wooded, much of it gently rolling hillsides with a fine marine view or an outlook on the Contra Costa Hills. You can find in Montclair the homesite you've dreamed about for years. And it's only 41 minutes from San Francisco by the San Francisco-Sacramento Ry., which taps the property, and 11 minutes from 14th and Broadway by automobile.

$50 Down--1% Monthly

Because the Realty Syndicate, which has held this property for 20 years, is liquidating its vast holdings this beautiful property—the coming residence section of the Eastbay—is being sold from $500 to $2000 a half acre. Any homesite will be $50 down and 1% a month. If held a few years longer and cut up into city lots you would pay as much for a 40-foot lot as you'll pay for an acre today. Montclair homesites are as good an investment as the business lots in the Montclair townsite—all to be sold on the same easy terms.

How to Get to Montclair

Free buses leave the Syndicate Bldg. every hour, or if you phone we will call for you with a machine. On Saturday and Sunday buses will meet the Park Blvd. cars at the end of the line and the Piedmont Ave. cars at Park Way and Highland Ave. If you drive out, take the Moraga Road direct to the trac office in Montclair townsite, or go out 13th Ave. to Moraga Road.

MY HEART and MY HUSBAND

BY ADELE GARRISON

What Madge and Mrs. Ticer Met on the Road.

I dressed in as becoming a costume as I could manage—considering the paucity of the wardrobe I had brought to our camp—for my drive to Bridgehampton to meet Dicky.

The dress I selected—an embroidered blue linen, which had done yeoman service in my wardrobe, was luckily an old favorite of my husband's. With it I wore a closely fitting annual hat of brown and blue plaid, a brown bow on the back, a brown long-sleeved sweater completed my attire, which Lillian, with a loving little pat pronounced "Little bit of all right."

The cracked old mirror in the shack boasted also gave me a favorable verdict as far as its limitations afforded, and I started for my drive in the car, which were not lessened by the sense of safety I felt in having the sturdy figure of Mrs. Ticer beside me.

With the memory of her queer nondescript fishing costumes before my mind I had been prepared for almost any freak of attire. But when I saw her in her costume I was dressed in a cheap but well-fitting white shirtwaist and black skirt, with her only flamboyance the big, red cotton roses on her faded blue sailor hat. She brought with her a large cretonne bag, evidently one of the big knitting bags so prevalent during the war, which I deduced had been given to her by some resident who no longer used it. From its capacious depths she brought forth some red apples, which she preferred to Marion.

"They're real ripe, dearie," she said, "and I don't believe they'll hurt you a mite."

She looked half-deafly at Lillian who since Marion's illness has been a martinet concerning the child's diet, to Mrs. Ticer's ill-suppressed disapproval, her theory of treating sick people being much like little Mrs. Durkee's—feeding them indigestively.

"Let me taste one first, dear," she said, and in another moment one of the apples had been cut in half, revealing the dead black seeds, and Lillian after sipping in blithely had cut apple and another one into Marion's sugar-outstretched hand.

MRS. TICER'S INVITATION.

"Eat this one now and the other at supper," she said, and the child danced up to Mrs. Ticer and hugged her ecstatically.

"You're so good to me," she cooed, "I just thought I'd give you pick 'em off your own tree."

"I'd like to see anybody that could help being good to you, dearie," Mrs. Ticer returned, looking fondly down

Letter of Tessie & Joe.

DEAR JOE:

Well, Joe, I suppose you've been following up this baseball scandal. I don't know who would if you didn't, because the first thing you do when you get hold of a newspaper is to make a bee's line for the sporting page, even before you so much as glance at the news. Of course everybody has a right to their own interests, and as the saying is it takes all sorts of queer things to fill a world, but still at the same time I never could understand your taste in choosing a home run in preference to a good murder.

Personally, it's my opinion that you couldn't hardly expect a lot of baseball teams to act perfectly honest when you start calling them things such as the White Socks and the Reds and the Pirates, and so on, etc. Why should it matter what kind of socks they wear as long as they're good players and mind their own business? The result is that when some comparative stranger offers them a big bribe to throw the ball in the wrong direction they reason to themselves, "Oh, at the flushed, lovely, little face. "How would you like to come over and pick some apples yourself?"

Marion danced up and down at the very thought. Mrs. Ticer looked at her mother questioningly.

"We're going to make the first sides tomorrow," she said hesitatingly. "It won't be much, because there aren't so awful many of these first apples. But we use up the bruised windfalls that way. Perhaps all you folks would like to come over and see how it's done. Just taking pot luck with us I could give you a dish dinner that I think may be you'd like."

I had a sudden, swift misgiving as to whether fastidious Dicky would enjoy this particular kind of an outing. But Lillian was prompt in her answer.

"There's nothing I would like better," she said heartily. "And Marion—just look at her—she'll fly away with joy if she dances anymore. Of course, I don't know what plan Mr. Graham has in view, as he'll tell him about it as soon as he gets here, and I'm sure we'll be glad to come along."

Mrs. Ticer flushed with pleasure. "I'll try to make it worth your while," she said with quiet dignity.

AROUND THE CURVE.

She appeared to have lost her usual volubility upon her ride to Bridgehampton, and I saw that she intently scanned the road in front of us, and every little while leaned out of her side of the car and looked back over the road we had come. I made no comment upon her actions, nor did she explain them until we came to a peculiarly tortuous stretch of winding road through the woods.

"Do you easy scared?" she asked abruptly.

"I don't think I am," I answered. "Why?"

"Oh, nuthin,'" she returned. "I just wanted to know. But if I was you I'd drive mighty careful around these curves. You never know what you're going to meet."

With a qualm of fear I recognized him as Mr. "Bridgeham."

MRS. THOMAS'
WORDTOWOMEN

Tells of the Great Good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Her.

Morris, Mich.—"About a year after my second baby was born I suffered with dizziness every morning so that I could hardly get around. I had heard from other women about your medicine and had read letters about it, so my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I took according to directions and in a short time I was entirely relieved. I also took the Vegetable Compound before my last baby came and am unable to say just what it did for me, suffering very much and I shall never be without it at such times. I have told others of its great worth and shall continue to tell it."—Mrs. Ed. Thomas, Box 184, Morris, Mich.

Women should not continue to suffer day in and day out, drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you would like free confidential advice, address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Superfluous Hair, Roots
And All, Quickly Go!
(Absolutely New Home Method)

For the first time in a hundred years a genuinely effective method of removing unsightly hairy growth has been discovered. It is a safe, simple process that not only takes off the hair—roots; it actually removes the roots. It does this quickly and harmlessly. It does not affect anything like the deodorants, lotions, or other methods. Pheladine is non-toxic, non-poisonous, non-irritating. Get a stick of it from your druggist for the simple directions and see how satisfaction comes when the roots themselves are removed at once—Advertisement.

Evangelist Meetings
Draw Good Crowds

The union meetings help conducted by the Brown evangelistic party in the new tabernacle, which is just being completed at Fifteenth street and Seventh avenue are well attended. A chorus choir is furnishing music under the direction of Mrs. D. Ironson, assistant evangelist. Brown's study tonight will be the "Married Person's Responsibility" night he will speak on "Demands of Domesticity."

Meetings are held every evening at 10 o'clock. These meetings last one hour and include talks by Evangelist Brown on subjects of special interest.

NO, IT'S NOT FOR CREDITOR TO END MARITAL DISPUTE

Although Mrs. Anna Baker after the death of her first husband married the latter's brother, C. S. Baker, her marriage with the second was not a success, as evidenced by a divorce and a suit against her and her divorced husband before Judge Harry W. Puleifer.

Baker and his former wife disagreed as to who should pay for chopping the wood, taking care of the horses, feeding the chickens and other essentials of life at their "chateau," known as Oak Villa in Contra Costa county. Uriel Cerrato, who farmed a place for himself near by, claimed there was owing to him $25 for his labor, $75 for three tons of hay he had sold them, and $25 he had loaned to Mrs. Baker. He could not get the former spouses to agree on who should pay the bill any more than they had seen in other domestic and matrimonial matters. Cerrato decided to shift the dispute to other shoulders and bought out.

Mrs. Baker declared the $25 loaned to her was at her husband's request for payment of taxes, but that the taxes were not paid and the money was used for other purposes.

Judge Puleifer held that Cerrato could not be expected to settle the couple's disputes for them, as creditors need not determine which is able as between husband and wife. He declared both were liable and gave judgment for the full amount against both. This gives Cerrato the privilege of collecting the money from either one.

1000 Students Of U. C. Fight Mythical Enemy

Officers To Be of U. S. Army Take Climb Over Hills to Practice Orders.

BERKELEY, Oct. 27.—Except in its deadliness, all the grim and reality of war was evident in the outfit and regalia of Berkeley yesterday.

From the dorms of the mythical city of Berkeley marched more than 1000 khaki-clad soldiers bent on routing an enemy advancing into the college city from over the Contra Costa hills.

Here were the cryptic orders read to the college soldiers assembled yesterday morning by Colonel J. T. Nance, commandant of the University.

"About two battalions of hostile infantry with a few mounted men and cyclists are near Grant, about twelve miles to the northwest of the campus. Hostile patrols have been seen in the vicinity of the Contra Costa and Alameda county line, west of the Berkeley hills. Our supporting troops are four miles from here."

Down through Thousand Oaks and San Bruno into Albany swooped the student soldiers. Somewhere in the shadow of Ferriro Hill in Albany the invaders were picked up and the victorious army marched home.

The occasion was the annual field day of the officers' training corps of the university's training corps on the campus. Marching parades were given the men and all of the preparations for battle carried out. The "battle" was staged from 1 until 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

ELLIOTT DEFENDS SERVICE SECTIONS

"When we wrote the charter we knew what was in it and the reason for it. When the people ratified that charter, the politicians also knew that they were voting for it. After ten years a handful of politicians are trying to pull the wool over your eyes and have the effrontery to ask you to wreck the Civil Service sections of that charter so that they can once more plunge the city hall into that mess of practical politics and corruption from which it was born. The very system they now seek to destroy. This was the opening statement of Albert H. Elliott, former city councilman and freeholder, at a crowded mass meeting of citizens in Lincoln hall Tuesday night.

"Of course, these politicians are not telling you what I have said," he continued. "They are telling you that it is necessary for a commissioner to be permitted to do just as he likes with civil service employees and that the poor employee shall not even be permitted to appeal for a fair hearing to an impartial and independent civil service board. Such a camouflage does not deserve a twelve-year-old school pupil. These officials are trying to tell us that we would have to give up the fact that the federal civil service rounds off if there be a greater loss of politics than the federal service I have never heard of it."

"Look at your papers daily, even tonight, and what do we find? Scandals by the dozen in the federal service, and you all know it. Yet these politicians stand sullenly by the side of the men who created them. That's the truth and the whole truth. Vote against the amendment. If you would preserve your city government from the political wolves who are striving to gain control of it for political uses."

Debate Challenge Issued By Democrats

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Democratic national headquarters issued a challenge today to the Republican national headquarters for a debate on the League of Nations, to be held in Chicago next Saturday.

Congressman Frank E. Bergman, chairman of the mid-west Democratic headquarters, sent the challenge to Harry C. New, in charge of the Republican speakers bureau.

Chinese Mercenaries Fight For Bolsheviks

HONG KONG, Oct. 27.—Chinese mercenaries are being employed by the Bolshevik government to suppress street fighting in Petrograd and Kronstadt, the naval base, according to advice received here today from the former Russian capital. The Chinese, well armed, were described as "bulldogs" of the work.

Russia, by the way, at Kronstadt culminated in the blowing up of two Russian torpedo boats.

HONOR PILGRIMS, REQUESTS DAVIE

Mayor Davie today issued an official proclamation reminding the people of Oakland of the "Tercentenary Pageant" in honor of the Pilgrim Fathers October 30, and asking them to participate. The proclamation follows:

To the People of Oakland: On Saturday evening, October 24, and Sunday afternoon, October 25, the Tercentenary Pageant will be presented at the Coliseum, Auditorium, by the Oakland Recreation Department. It will be known as a "Pageant of Progress," to be given in commemoration of the 300th anniversary of the sailing of the Pilgrims from England.

Three hundred years ago a small band of pioneers left their native land and came to the Atlantic coast of this continent. There they established the beginning of what is now to be the greatest nation in the world. From a small group of colonies on that seaboard our country now extends from ocean to ocean.

In those three hundred years our country has experienced a tremendous development. We have been through periods of prosperity and periods of war—the wars always being waged to maintain the supremacy of these principles upon which our Pilgrim fathers founded the nation.

All of our historic events will have their part in the "Pageant of Progress." Nearly three thousand of our children and people will participate in the production, which shows the influence of the Pilgrim fathers all the way through our national progress.

No admission will be charged for this event, and we hope that our people will greatly enjoy this production, which depicts, as it does, our national progress.

JOHN L. DAVIE,
Mayor of the City of Oakland.

Workers Discharged In Boycott Muddle

A number of machinists, declared by the孟加拉公司 to be less than the forty claimed by the machinist union, have been discharged from the company's San Francisco shops for refusing to sign an agreement that no attempt to boycott certain work would be made.

The question is not at issue in the local yards and there have been no intimation of any disagreement here. The Johnson Iron Works in Oakland has resumed operation on the American plan, following a shutdown of one week. The company announces that practically all of the men are at work.

CONFESSIONS REPORTED

These officers say that the three men, after being questioned separately, each confessed. But they denied guilt in the robbery of Charles R. Scott on the highway between Antioch and Pittsburg earlier the same night, say the police.

The victims of the robbery gave their losses as $1200 in cash and $500 in diamond rings, stockings and other jewelry. According to the officers, the trio declared they got only $180 in cash and a single diamond ring.

One of the victims of the poker party hold-up noticed a glove on the hand of one of the bandits and thought his general actions were peculiar and familiar. He became convinced he was Smith, a fellow-worker. The police say that he is a fellow-worker.

Due to the police, additional clues were obtained from a decoy girl companion of the men, say the officers. Smith has two fingers off.

ARRESTS MADE

Cameron was arrested at the rooms occupied by himself and the other men early yesterday, and later when Maderas and Smith returned from the mill where they were working, they were also arrested. The men are scarcely out of their teens.

The trio were taken before Justice of the Peace Alexander and held overnight.

Housing Staff To Be Reduced

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Owing to the tremendous increase of California's Americanization problem, which has added an increase in expenditure, the Immigration and Housing Commission has been compelled to make drastic reductions of its staff, according to R. Justin Miller, executive officer. Among those who are leaving the staff are John Collier, director of community organization; Ernest J. Hopkins, director of publicity; Elizabeth Kepke, assistant director of immigration education, and several members of the stenographic staff. At least $200,000 will be saved, according to Miller.

The new part-time classes for adult immigrants, which require teachers especially educated for these classes, and four new Americanization institutes are held to be responsible for the increase of costs. The commission receives $72,000 annually.

The Immigration and Housing Bureau will be discontinued. Traveling expenses for the members of the staff will also be reduced, and there will be no appointment to fill the vacant position of executive officer next year, according to the announcement.

Wife Faints in Court As Letters Are Read

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Ardent love letters signed "W.H." and alleged to have been taken from the trunk of Mrs. Bertha B. Miller, 718 Clement street, caused her to faint in Judge Cabaniss' Court yesterday. Miller, wife of the attorney Edward Miller for divorce, gave a recital of alleged wrongs at the hands of her husband. Both husband and wife are seeking the custody of a nine-year-old daughter.

News of the Churches

The proposed constitutional amendment, which will be voted on next Tuesday, is receiving wide attention in practically every school and church, since these institutions are more or less widely recognized as places where people may meet and become enlightened. The one-day-a-week church is beginning to decide upon the changes that must be made to the church question, practically all of the seven days—a place where there are meetings of social, devotional and educational nature.

The young people in the East Bay region are being actively active in trying to explain the ballot proposed to the voters who will be voting to decide upon the proposed question. In Berkeley, the campaign headquarters for the passage of Amendment 12, the college students are working hard to get the signatures of the large numbers.

The evening forum has been adopted by many of the churches as a means of discussing various enterprises which may arise in the connection with the campaign.

At the University of California, Professors Thomas Reed and George W. Moore are leading the campaign.

At the University of California, the young people are planning a benefit Hallowe'en dance to be given Saturday evening, October 24, at the Home Club. The affair is in the hands of a committee headed by Misses Jane Hill, Anna Gandy, and Frances Farnam. The proceeds will be turned over to the Armenian Relief Society.

HALLOWEEN DANCE.

The young people of the Church of the Epiphany are planning a benefit Hallowe'en dance to be given Saturday evening, October 24, at the Home Club. The affair is in the hands of a committee headed by Misses Jane Hill, Anna Gandy, and Frances Farnam. The proceeds will be turned over to the Armenian Relief Society.

MEN'S CLUB MEETS.

A special public meeting of the Men's Club of St. John's Presbyterian Church was held in the junior auditorium of the church on Saturday.

The meeting was held under the chairmanship of Dr. George W. Moore, president of the club.

The speakers were Rev. Dr. J. S. Bartlett of Berkely; Attorney J. S. Cooper of San Francisco; Dr. C. J. Gadis and Robert G. Sprout.

On account of the length of the program the luncheon will begin at 12:30 o'clock. The speaking program will begin at 12:30 and adjournment will be called at 1:45 o'clock.

Marcus Loew of Theater Fame Is Oakland Visitor

New House Attracts Head of Circuit to Give Ideas

Marcus Loew, aspirant to the Keith toga in the vaudeville world, came to Oakland yesterday to see the progress of work on the remodeling of the Metropole theater, which is shortly to open as Loew's State Theater, and to check over final details relating to management.

Loew has been an increasingly out-standing figure in the theatrical world, and other amusement developments.

The new State Theater in Oakland is one of twenty-seven new houses, buildings or being remodeled for the Loew syndicate. Beside these, Loew owns or controls nearly 300 others, chiefly devoted to pictures and light vaudeville.

Irving Ackerman and Sam Harris, Loew's western managers, will control the State Theater, which will be managed by Harry David, formerly of the University of California.

ANNUAL BAZAAR PLANS.

The Ladies' Aid of the Melrose Baptist church, 27th avenue and Bond Street, are planning their annual bazaar for Thanksgiving Day in aid of the church.

The usual sale of fancy work, cakes and fancy cooking dolls, in fact all of the great variety of goods will be sold. The bazaars will be carried on at the various booths.

A cafeteria supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

The chairman of the committee, Mrs. A. J. Hallowell, Mrs. A. E. Jenkins, and Mrs. E. W. Thibodeau.

Last evening the deaconesses of the church arranged their semi-annual reception to those who have become affiliated with the church during the last six months. The entertainment took the nature of a very interesting program after which a social evening and refreshments were enjoyed.

Many of the Methodist churches observed "Good Literature Day" Sunday, Rev. John D. Stephens of the First Methodist church, under the influence of the press in educating people along religious lines. "The pulpit's greatest ally," he said, "was one of the thoughts that he brought out. He showed that such pioneer churchmen as John Wesley recognized the value of good books in helping the thought of those whom he wished to cultivate. He it was, according to Dr. Stephens, who initiated the cheap bookstores, where good books could be purchased at moderate prices."

The influence of books in shaping the thought of the people is receiving greater recognition every day. A greater variety of reading matter is being sent out now than at any time during the history of the world. If the literature is good, the influence will be good, or very good.

The idea which the churches wished to emphasize, and which every older person should emphasize, is that the greater variety of reading matter should be placed in the hands of the children. Nature thought not so easily in giving us the right thought of those whom she wished to cultivate. He it was, according to Dr. Stephens, who initiated the cheap bookstores, where good books could be purchased at moderate prices."

THE ABSENT VOTERS.

THE TRIBUNE advises its readers to vote against Proposal 17 on the State ballot of legislative projects. This is a proposed amendment to the constitution permitting citizens absent from the State or from their resident city to vote by mail.

Similar proposals have twice been rejected by an overwhelming vote of the people.

There is much to be said in favor of the business man or traveling man who is by business requirements compelled to be absent from his home on election day being permitted to vote elsewhere and have his vote counted in determining the result of home elections. Among those that travel on business are the best and most trustworthy citizens of the State. It always is unfortunate when they are unable to participate in elections.

But against the proposal must be weighed the danger of breaking down vital safeguards against dishonest voting and counting of ballots. Every precaution should be maintained to keep the ballot box honest. When men and women are permitted to vote in remote places, without official and bi-partisan witnessing, in States and communities where they may not be known by anyone who can properly vouch for them, illegal voting and ballot stuffing will be the inevitable result.

The inducement to fraud is so palpable and enticing that the evil forces in politics would not be able to resist it.

In the interest of election honesty, vote against Proposal 17.

TRADE NEEDS ATTENTION.

President Wilson and Secretary of State Colby probably figure that when the awakened people call them to account for their refusal and failure to enforce the merchant marine law they will be through with public office and thus be able to evade the moral and political penalties of their abandonment of America's interest.

The shipping law contains a provision that commodities of international trade carried in American ships may under certain circumstances receive preferential tariffs and rates of rail transportation when sent into the interior, or from the interior to a seaport. The law provides that in the event a foreign government enjoying treaty relations with the United States in which there is a provision to prevent the enjoyment of these benefits by American merchant ships the treaty shall be abrogated upon the refusal of the foreign government to waive the treaty restriction. This mandate of the act of Congress the President has declared his intention to ignore.

Yet it is perfectly plain that American trade will need every assistance within the power of the government to extend if it is to survive the period of sharp competition which already has set in. Trade returns stated in dollars do not measure the true character of sea-borne commerce. It is gratifying to those who do not look beneath the surface to read that the total annual value of the country's foreign commerce is ten or eleven billion dollars. But when the quantity of goods carried is ascertained it appears that our foreign commerce is a greatly stuffed figure.

Take raw cotton as an example. The quantity exported during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1920, was 25 percent below the quantity exported in 1914, while the 1920 exports of cotton, if sold at the price prevailing in 1914 would have brought only one third as much as the recorded valuation in the 1920 export figures. In other words, the high price of cotton boosted the export value of this single staple over a half-billion dollars, while the actual quantity exported was less than in 1914. The export figure for 1920 was thirty-nine cents a pound, while in 1914 it was thirteen cents. The three and a half billion pounds exported in 1920 was priced at 125 percent more than the four and a half billion pounds exported in 1914.

Quoted prices are also deceptive in appraising the extent and significance of imports. Thus the amount of India rubber brought into the country in the last fiscal year was five times the amount of the importation of 1914, but it actually came in at a price 20 percent below the 1914 price.

In a compilation of statistics by the National City Bank of New York it was possible to ascertain the pounds—that is, the actual quantity—of about 75 percent of the exports and imports. Compared with 1914, the exports for 1920 were only 34.6 percent greater, while the imports into the country were 65.6 percent greater. Yet calculated on current price values, the exports for the last fiscal year showed an increase of 221.1 percent over 1914 and the imports 243.9 percent. This strikingly illustrates the inflated idea which mere price quotations give. The total value of all exports and imports for 1920 was $9,473,000,000, while the value of 1920 quantities at 1914 prices would have been only $4,285,000,000. Quite a difference there.

During the first four months of the current year exports have declined and imports increased, so that the favorable balance of trade based on quantity is not now important. The unfavorable tendency is continuing and the illustration at Washington does nothing to counteract it. It even ignores the devices which Congress has provided and the instructions which the time to give real substance to the inflated figure of America's foreign trade is now. There will come a time when it will be too late to apply a sure remedy and that time is not far off, unless the national government at once recognizes and performs its duty.

GARTER PRICE DROPS.

The somewhat disconcerting, not to say embarrassing, news that men's garters are coming down loses its powers to disturb when translated to mean that the price of the elastic article is to drop. Whether the reduction is caused by the largely increased demand, due to the fact that women are wearing half hose, and a consequent decrease in cost of production, or to the fact that the garters have been stretched to their maximum of cost, are questions for debate. Certainly no such reason as the former has ever been offered in modern economies, but these are changing times and garters are uncertain quantities.

The rise from fifteen cents to seventy-five in a pair of men's garters has worked great hardship on one of the main supports in every day affairs. It has meant an over-dependence and confidence in last season's output, a straining of old supply to the slipping point, and a burdensome tax on masculine ankles. Someone has suggested that the Knight of the Garter, instead of being a British grandee, has become the local habschler.

War profits on men's garters have hit at security and responsibility. They have made the business of keeping up under all conditions a bit more hard and they have added to the perils of putting the best foot foremost.

There will be a general rejoicing at the news of the price reduction, and maybe a little wondering at the discrimination in favor of the men.

A preliminary peace treaty has been signed by the Polish and Bolshevik commissioners at Tilsit. According to the cable dispatches, Poland has been granted considerable additional territory on the east to conform to her ideas of ethnographic frontier, and certain assurances have been given the Bolshevik power at Moscow that Poland will not aid General Wrangle in South Russia in his war against the soviets. Any peace agreement is cause for satisfaction, but this latest one must be accepted with reservations for two reasons. First, the word of the Bolshevik leaders cannot be accepted with safety, and secondly, if Russia's territory has been ceded to Poland which does not of right belong to Poland the Russian people will assail the treaty when they regain control of their country from the Bolsheviks. It would appear that under the sting of a crushing military defeat the Bolsheviks have made concessions of territory in order to gain relief from the Polish pressure and the promise of neutrality in regard to other adversaries.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Philip W. McCarthy celebrated his ninetieth birthday yesterday today. He was the recipient of many presents from admiring friends. Under Sheriff Martin presented him with a walking stick that he cut and fashioned from the native woods in France. Mrs. A. J. Naturally it was a huge cake, since it carried a tidy weight. —Rod Bluff News.

R. J. Curran of the San Joaquin Valley Farm received the following letter: "I got ten bullets from you for $1. I have one that told me on Sunday, two on Monday, two on Thursday, one on Friday, and two on Sunday. I did not believe my wife, but I was at home when she caught her in the nest." —San Joaquin Tribune.

A request for the dismissal of Mr. Louis F. Post, Assistant Secretary of Labor, has been filed with the President Wilson by the American Legion. The charge is that he has been too lenient in deportation proceedings against undesirable aliens. President Wilson's Attorney General, a Cabinet official, submitted to Congress evidence of the unfitness of Mr. Post to the extent of several hundred pages, which may be considered by the President in connection with the Legion's request.

NOTES AND COMMENT

If everybody votes who has registered there will be 1,374,184 ballots cast in this state at the forthcoming election. And if those who are on the list vote as they have registered 854,975 of these will be plumped for Harding and Coolidge. It is not expected that there will be quite such an outcome, but perfectly good signs indicate that enough Republicans will show up and do their duty to make the opposition believe that a snowstorm visited California.

During the first four months of the current year exports have declined and imports increased, so that the favorable balance of trade based on quantity is not now important. The unfavorable tendency is continuing and the illustration at Washington does nothing to counteract it. It even ignores the devices which Congress has issued in the name of the people. The President and Secretary Colby heed the protests of Great Britain and Japan, but neglect the interest of the American people.

The time to give real substance to the inflated figure of America's foreign trade is now. There will come a time when it will be too late to apply a sure remedy and that time is not far off, unless the national government at once recognizes and performs its duty.

The courts have decided that the state has a right to protect itself from those who would overturn it by violence. That is, such uprisings as the J. W. W. have been known to indulge in do not come within the protection of the law. If the court had decided the other way there would have been an interesting situation. The case would seem to have almost decided itself.

The legality of the clause of the Volstead act which provides for the confiscation of vehicles which are detected in unlawfully conveying liquors is being tested. A hearing in a case involving the point is to be had before the United States Supreme Court on the 6th of December. There has always been a doubt about this provision.

History is strewn with incidents involving momentous events that result from trivial happenings. Another is now possible. Because of a monkey bite a dynasty may fall, a republic may replace a monarchy, even a revolutionary uprising may come about. Dire things in Greece are not sure to eventuate, but the situation makes them possible.

The Santa Fe is to return to its old terminal at Richmond, discontinuing its joint arrangement with the Southern Pacific. Undoubtedly there are reasons good and sufficient to the railroad companies for such recession, but the general public would be better served with the two roads, or all of them for that matter, using a common terminal.

The Greens are charged with violating the state fruit standardization law. It is alleged that they sold a woman patron a sack of potatoes, representing them to be big, fine spuds, and that when she opened the sack she discovered tiny potatoes, old and shriveled. She notified an officer and the Greens were arrested.

During the process of their trial it was disclosed that the potatoes had been purchased by the Greens from Frank Rossi, and that his representations had been the same to the Greens as their to the potato buyer. So Rossi was haled into court to stand trial on a similar complaint.

The Greens case was continued so that they could testify against Rossi at a later date.

VANDERLIP TRIP TO RUSSIA UNDER OFFICIAL SCRUTINY

Harding Says He Does Not Know Him. Soviets
Confirm His Story.

Washington D. Vanderlip, Oakland man who at one time attracted considerable prominence as the inventor of a submarine, is today the center of diplomatic scrutiny of the center of half the world. Vanderlip went alone to Russia and emerged with concessions tying up 400,000 square miles of land in northeastern Siberia.

With single stroke he has enlisted Pacific coast financiers with a great undeveloped source of coal, oil and fishery wealth and because of his success is accused of having represented himself as an economic representative of Senator Warren G. Harding. He has been responsible for a hurried call of the United States cabinet, a score or more of official cables across the Atlantic, and a large number of statements and de-nials.

SENATOR HARDING MAKES DENIAL.

Senator Harding has set at rest the stories concerning Vanderlip's powers to make him name he has never heard of," said a Republican candidate last night at Minton when the news was brought to him of a report that Vanderlip secured his concessions by promising recognition to the soviet government after the November election. "He is not my agent and I have no agent. I have absolutely nothing about any such man as is discussed in these despatches and have no interest in it whatever."

Harry Chandler, of Los Angeles, one of the financiers interested with Vanderlip in the project, added his denial that Vanderlip represented anything but business interests.

A cable to the Russian soviet government bureau in New York has confirmed Vanderlip's success in securing the concessions and includes some of the details of the plan.

Names of some of the members of the company: Edward L. Doheny, one of the candidates for the Democratic vice-presidential nomination, is in the list.

RUSS SOVIET EXPLAINS DEAL.

The message follows:

"On October 1st there was announced the consummation of the deal proposed by the Vandenberg syndicate comprising Vanderlip, Bassett, Harry Chandler, Sartori Le Phillips, Fitchburn, Edward L. Doheny, Gibson, Jayne, Winship, Stewart and Braun, all Pacific Coast capitalists. The syndicate acquires a sixty-year lease of territory east of the one-hundred and sixteenth meridian, including a hundred and sixteen meridian, and six thousand square miles with exclusive rights to exploit coal, oil and fisheries. Vast oil strata and bituminous coal deposits have been discovered in this territory. The syndicate expects to take possession and commence operations in the spring of 1921. A same syndicate is also acquiring a lease with the right to mine coal and oil in the center of the country. Negotiations are proceeding successfully whereby this syndicate will become our fiscal agents in America, financing purchases up to $500,000,000; all purchases to be made through your office."

The text of the message to Secretary Colby has not been made public but is known to have come from Otto E. Cramm, commissioner for the state department at Riga.

SECRETARY COLBY GIVES VERSION.

It has evoked a long statement from Colby that he viewed the matter in a serious light and that the cabinet officials considered that it demanded an explanation. Immediately after Colby published his report yesterday the cabinet met in a hurried session. Publication of the report, Colby said, was to give Senator Harding the opportunity to make a statement to the departmental statement follows:

"Regarding the published report from London that Washington D. Vanderlip of California has concluded an arrangement with the Russian soviet government for a large concession in northeastern Siberia, the only dispatch bearing directly on the subject received by the state department was received from the British embassy at Riga. It states that Lenin had informed H. G. Wells that Vanderlip, the American, then at Moscow, claimed to represent Senator Harding and had made certain proposals regarding the recognition of the Bolshevik government. The despatch further stated that Vanderlip is apparently endeavoring to obtain recognition from the Bolsheviks.

Tenants that Vanderlip had any authority to act for Senator Harding or that the Bolsheviks candidates ever knew of the existence of the Oakland man continue to come in

CONGRESSMEN TO VISIT NAVAL BASE HERE TWO DAYS

Inspection Board To Arrive
November 10, Oakland
C. of C. Informed.

Two days will be devoted to the Alameda site by the congressional commission on naval bases, according to a telegram received today by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, from Joseph E. Caine, managing director, who is now in Chicago conferring with Congressman Fred A. Brittain, chairman of the House committee on naval affairs.

One day will be spent in inspecting the site and investigating the industrial districts of the mainland, and the other in holding a hearing at the Hotel Oakland. The rest of the time, it is expected, will be divided between Hunter's Point and Carquinez straits.

Two days will be given to each of these places.

The committee is scheduled to arrive on Tuesday, November 16, leaving the following Tuesday for Los Angeles. This whole week will permit a two-day investigation of each site. Caine will have a luncheon conference at the Hotel Oakland next Tuesday with George J. Boardman, vice-president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and with the representative of the Vallejo Chamber of Commerce in regard to the visit of the congressional commission. Headquarters of the commission will be at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco.

In the meantime preparation of the data and maps to be laid before the commission is progressing rapidly. C. E. Hughes, city manager of Alameda, has almost completed a relief map of that city and the projected naval base.

W. M. Chapin, chairman of the naval base committee, is planning to call that body together shortly after Caine's return.

COUNCIL VOTES CELEBRATION AID

Commissioner Baucus of the Flamingo Improvement Association voted favorably on spending $100 toward the Pilgrim Tercentenary celebration and $1000 toward a new directory for Oakland, the City Council this morning accepted the former recommendation and referred the matter of the directory to the city engineer for a report.

"This directory company," said Edwards, "wants $10,000 in advance before it starts work. I understand they are fast getting advertisements to cover that amount, and I know of no general rule for the city to invest in such matters."

"It is the only way Oakland can secure this directory," said Baucus.

"I suggest if the Council should be called on to make such appropriations, what is the use of keeping it?"

The sum of $1000 was transferred to the playground department for its pageant.

New Concrete Tanker Peralta to Be Speedily Equipped and Ready for Commission in Three Months

Waterfront activities in Oakland within the past five days included the docking of four steam liners and the launching of the second of the 7500-ton concrete tankers constructed by the government for experimental purposes.

Immediate steps toward outfitting and mechanically equipping the Peralta, the stone vessel, which took to the waves from ways at the San Francisco Shipbuilding yards, were begun today, officials of the company declared, and hoped that she would be in commission within the next three months was expressed. The maiden voyage probably will be undertaken some time in January.

Installation of the huge reciprocating steam engine will be started within the next two weeks, with the placing of various auxiliary pieces of machinery. Inter equipment, including funnels, masts, etc., will have been set in place within the next ten days, it is said.

Of the liners arriving at the west waterfront, the freighter Grant was the first to arrive, making her headquarters at the Park terminal. The

ALIBIS CLAIMED BY TWO SUSPECTS

Sheriff Barnett and county officers under him and Ezra Decoto, district attorney, today were at work checking up alibis presented by James Carey and W. F. Curley, held in connection with the Alvarado Bank robbery investigation.

The bartender at the tavern opposite the Alvarado Bank, who served the robbers, and the waiter in the neighboring counting room, also was awaited. He was absent when Carey and Curley were taken to Alvarado yesterday.

CASHIER SAYS YES.
Theodore Leydecker, cashier at the bank, said Carey was one of the robbers. He did not recognize Curley. Mrs. Christine Anderson, bookkeeper, and Manuel Matora, customer, who also saw the robbers, gave their

The San Francisco police said the two men were held on suspicion of being connected with the robbery.

LETTERS STOLEN AT HANDLEY HOME

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27.—The mysterious robbery of the home of Lorin A. Handley, late California state prohibition enforcement officer, while funeral services were being conducted for the deceased dry chief, today had taken added significance when Mrs. Lorin A. Handley, his widow, reported that numerous letters and papers had been taken by the intruder.

Letters written by Handley to his wife and their son during the last summer, together with oil papers are missing, according to Mrs. Handley.

"These letters are significant only in view of the recent charge that there has been dissension between myself and Mr. Handley," she declared today.

While for a time yesterday afternoon Mrs. Lamb, who has been sued for possession of apartment house leases said to have been held jointly by Mrs. Lamb and Handley, indicated that a compromise out of court might be affected, Mrs. Handley today indicated that a compromise seemed unlikely.

Mrs. Lamb recently filed an affidavit charging that she and Handley were engaged to be married "as soon as Mrs. Handley could get a divorce."

Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda Stereopticon Instruments to Be Finest Made

In its preparations to handle the largest bulletin screen in the west next Tuesday night for the election returns, The Oakland TRIBUNE has closed a deal for the use of the finest stereopticon and projection machines made.

The intense heat generated requires special jackets to protect the eyes of the operators. The heat also makes it necessary to protect the slides with cooling devices beneath water cooled jackets.

A 350-foot special No. 4 cable will be used for the large machine at the plaza. Ordinary machines use only 200 feet.

In addition to the three principal sets for bulletins, series of TRIBUNE extras will give details of the election, nationally and state with exclusive Associated Press dispatches published in the East.

Extra large transformers are being installed on account of the high amperage necessary to throw the large eight foot letters across San Pablo avenue to the Kahn building. The light must travel for a distance of 250 feet and still burn brightly at this point, being projected from the building.

Five-Day Bazaar is Opened in Allendale

The women of St. Lawrence O'Toole's church opened a five-day bazaar today in Mutual hall, Allendale. The funds will be used for the benefit of the church fund. The affair will be conducted throughout the remainder of the week and will be closed on Monday evening, November 1, with a dance in the hall.

Rev. Fr. J. Ryan, pastor of the church, and a committee of women are in charge.

R. F. PAINE RECOVERING.
SAN DIEGO, Oct. 27.—Robert F. Paine, veteran newspaper man of Los Angeles and California, is recovering today from two serious operations performed recently at San Francisco.

On entering the hall each guest will be blindfolded and led through the "palace of horrors." A Hallowe'en stunt by the Y. M. C. A. men will follow. The Bolander sisters of Berkeley will furnish the music.

The committee in charge is composed of the Misses Margaret Piereson, Ruth Bigelow, Jeannie Burdette, Gladys Thomas, Alice Burton, Lois Ritter, Ethel Trask, Doris Abel and Leona Ladd; Bill Stinger, Harold Bonham, Harry Melville, Joe Lo Conte, Percy Plummer, Italy Higgins, Thomas Fisher and Frank Higgins.

NORTH AND DUNDEE TOP AUDITORIUM BOXING CARD TONIGHT

PICKING NEXT SEASON'S MANAGERS FOR PORTLAND AND SALT LAKE CLUBS IS WINTER SPORT

NEWCOMER WILL GET ACID TEST WHEN HE TACKLES LOCAL BOXER

Joe Azevedo vs. Willie Robinson and Frankie Malone vs. Harry Pelsinger Other bouts.

By BOB SHAND

Is Bobby North, the eastern featherweight all that Manager John Flammer says he is or is Robert simply another of these New York boxers that get by big in the East but fall down when they mingle with the little four-rounders. Tonight will tell the tale as Mr. North has a box-fighting engagement with James "Lucky" Dundee at the local auditorium. If the newcomer licks Dundee or even gets a draw the fans will admit he is a regular fighter. If he fails to make the right kind of a showing he will be in no worse fix than a lot of the eastern scrapping gentry who found the little four-rounders too tough to handle. Manager Flammer thinks he has a great fighter but he fails to explain why Billy Gibson sent the lad west when the fight game is so good around New York, and John knows as well as the next man that Gibson never let go of anything worth while during his long career as boxing promoter and manager. In his work-outs at the Parkside club in San Francisco North has shown only ordinary ability. Some of the "experts" think he is the best he will need it all tonight.

The Parkside club is located some miles out in the Mission, too far for the Oakland fans to travel, which may or may not be taken as a hit to the promoters and managers to have boys on the road and cut them off in Oakland. There are plenty of available gyms for the scappers to work in and the customers who do not at the box office are entitled to an average price of the performers. It is all right to quote the enthusiastic managers and chatter about what a wonderful fighter the newcomer is, but your average fan is from the eastern seaboard and when he gets to be lets go of Mr. Buck. With the regular run of four-rounders it is different. The fan know what they can do but when they start an eastern boxer for the first time he should be made to do his training on this side of the bay.

Dundee has been working at Wixson's and the famous pugilist is in his usual porpoise shape. Dundee is in his usual six-foot shape, Dundee will be giving away some six pounds also height and reach, but he is depending on his left hook to the body to bring Mr. North down to Dundee dimension.

PELINGER VS. MALONE

Harry Pelsinger, the young man who can make a pair of dice roll over and play dead at the will of command, is back with us after his absence. Harry hooks up with his old friend, Frankie Malone, and if Malone will fight while Pelsinger boxes it will be a lively set. Their previous meetings were not going to raze over, but since they met last Malone has changed his style and is more willing to mix things now. Joe Azevedo, the western lightweight, has agreed to box Frankie Ad Wolgast and that kind in turn. Azevedo is the western lightweight who is a distance fighter, but Joe always gives the fans and fannies a run for their money. Benny Viera, the kid who did not have enough box reputation to make the list, O'Hara, is going to collect another nice medal this evening when he tangles with Bobby Erville. Erville is quite sorry that Offra is not here to help him out, but he is doing the best he can just the same and is not going to fret himself to death. Benny hopes Teddy will be at the ringside to see the fight.

Ralph Rivers, the tall lightweight with the long reach, will substitute for Johnny Webber against Joe Ketcher. Webber will be out of the game for a week because there is a broken finger on his right hand.

Bill Shaffer and Nathan Thomas will positively appear this time. They were advertised to be seen again, but two weeks ago Thomas could not keep his date. The colored boy has promised faithfully to be on hand tonight and it is a cinch that Mr. Shaffer will be waiting for him. Shaffer's friends are not too keen because there are afraid Bill will make mincemeat of Thomas as soon as the colored boy enters the building.

Dynamite Murphy, a Sacramento product, will make his local debut with Harry Scott to provide the op-

Eight Bouts On Fight Bill at the Auditorium

Bobby North, eastern featherweight, makes his debut at the auditorium tonight with Jimmy Dundee on the other end of the bout. North looks much bigger than a featherweight, but claims the Duffys' and Farrells are too big for him. He will outweigh Dundee six pounds. Here is the complete card:

Jimmy Dundee vs. Bobby North
Frankie Malone vs. Harry Pelsinger
Willie Robinson vs. Joe Azevedo
Joe Ketcher vs. Ralph Rivers
Bobby Erville vs. Benny Viera
Bill Shaffer vs. Nathan Thomas
Harry Scott vs. "Dynamite" Murphy
Jimmy Powell vs. Frankie Quick

Scott has been getting by nicely but this Murphy boy, they say, is two promising youngsters. Jimmy Powell and Frankie Quick, meet in curtain raiser. Powell liked to box, but Nathan Thomas, Quick stopped his last bout, and the boxers at the Association club in the first minute of the first round. The show starts at eight-thirty.

Oakland and Tech Play Championship Football Game Today

Today at the Bay View Park at Eleventh and Wood, the Oakland and Tech High schools will clash for the championship of the S. F. O. I. S. A. This is the first time the Tech has ever come to play. The game is to be played at 4 o'clock.

STAGED NEAR NEW YORK

The attitude of the New York state boxing commission toward the proposed big fight is being watched with interest. So far the commission has not shown any definite policy, though it has put up what might be called a temporary barrier against this barrier. It is believed, however, that the commission will be taken down after the election, and that Dempsey-Carpenter will be practically sure to be staged in New York. It will draw $1,000,000 provided the promoters will bear the expenses. Hence the price offered is a million is no more than the promoters might have been expected to offer. Dempsey, it is said, will receive $300,000 for his end. Carpenter will get the remaining $200,000, and both will share in the moving pictures, as will the promoters of the fight. The pictures, by the way, will earn a handsome sum in New York state or any state in which they are shown in this country, but abroad they will be worth a fortune, and it is believed the boxers will realize almost as much from the showing of the pictures in Europe as they will get out of the purse.

It will draw $1,000,000 provided the promoters will bear the expenses. Hence the price offered is a million is no more than the promoters might have been expected to offer. Dempsey, it is said, will receive $300,000 for his end. Carpenter will get the remaining $200,000, and both will share in the moving pictures, as will the promoters of the fight. The pictures, by the way, will earn a handsome sum in New York state or any state in which they are shown in this country, but abroad they will be worth a fortune, and it is believed the boxers will realize almost as much from the showing of the pictures in Europe as they will get out of the purse.

STAGED NEAR NEW YORK

The attitude of the New York state boxing commission toward the proposed big fight is being watched with interest. So far the commission has not shown any definite policy, though it has put up what might be called a temporary barrier against this barrier. It is believed,

THEY WILL TELL HOUSEWIVES HOW TO TACKLE H. C. L.

Statewide campaign of household education for home keepers has been inaugurated, and within the next few weeks will have been placed in effect as part of the project to reduce the present strain of financing the average home, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Clarence Haring, chairman of the department of home economics of the California Federation of Women's Clubs.

A unique budget system has been completed. A series of declares, which is soon to have its initial test in the hands of a chosen few throughout the state. Then it is planned to extend the system through inviting the co-operation of other club organizations.

"Has the average woman the right to expect co-partnership?" asks Mrs. Haring.

To determine this it will be necessary for us to order a rigid investigation into the qualifications of the average woman. This can be done most easily if every woman would make a survey of her own home during the period of a month, noting in what ways she can raise the standard without involving increased expenditures and how her own efficiency as a home maker and house manager may be increased.

The plan is expected to bring to the homes it reaches, a realization of present day valuations, and nullify to a great extent the post war hysteria in which the average family has unthinkingly lived far beyond its means. To this end a judge of a specially prepared will be issued to members of the federation whose names will later be announced, and for a period of one month a strict account of all household expenditures will be made. By the ultimate report the organization believes if not only will have served to show these families the heretofore hidden leaks in the income but will give an accurate percentage of household expenses per month.

"Simple Living and High Thinking" is the slogan to be used by the federation during the campaign.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT BLOCKING BUSINESS

Charles A. Bonaparte, former chairman of the Civil Service Reform League, has said, "I am inflexibly opposed to anything amounting to a trial for a subordinate removed or disciplined by a superior unless the latter thinks something of the time is needed to guide his own judgment."

Why retain Oakland's non-representative? The man who is responsible for the city's success should not be blocked in handling the city business. Adopt Federal Civil Service.

Marking an epoch in a new field of community achievement, the "Pageant of Progress," commemorating the Pilgrim Tercentenary will be presented under the direction of the Oakland Recreation Department next Saturday afternoon and Sunday evening in the Auditorium. More than 3,000 people, representing over 20 clubs, schools, churches, industrial plants, fraternal orders and other organizations in the city will participate.

Music and dancing will play an important part in weaving together the twelve episodes. Under the direction of Glenn H. Woods, director of music in the schools, a chorus of 50 school children will sing Puritan hymns and for the phone episode Woods has written special music. Another musical feature from Welsh Presbyterian church that will sing old hymns, accompanied by a number of red organ. Paul Steinendorff's orchestra will provide music for the dances. "The Dance of the Years" will be performed by a group of girls from Mills College and dances popular in the thirteen colonies, the minuet, the May pole, and the sailor's hornpipe will be danced by boys and girls from the Sons and Daughters of St. George. Under the direction of Miss Sarah Preble, Camp Fire girls will perform the Indian snake dance. Miss Louise Jorgenson will dance the only solo dance in the pageant, and under her direction children from the city playgrounds will present the dance of the fruitful Earth.

The program will be opened by Ye Towne Crier, Edwin Stearns of the

HUBER PREJUDICE FOR PETERSEN, IS HAGAN'S CHARGE

Attempting to introduce an affidavit that Harry S. Huber was dismissed from the army after a court-martial and was restored to office after Walter J. Petersen and others friends had interceded for him in Washington, City Attorney Hagan last night started an argument which consumed nearly all of the civil service hearing in the Petersen case.

Huber endeavored to prove that Huber, a member of the civil service board, owes Petersen for favors and cannot act as an impartial juror. Before the session was over, harsh words were spoken on both sides. The board finally filed the affidavit for reference, though it held that Petersen, not Huber, was on trial, and that it had no jurisdiction to try a member of the board in any case.

The affidavit alleged prejudice and bias on the part of Huber, a certain class of people being prejudiced in a grossly unfair manner favorable to the recall of Commissioner Morse. It then alleged that Huber was ordered dismissed from the army during war time for violation of article 93, articles of war, and that Petersen appealed to congressmen to have the verdict changed. A copy of an alleged letter from Congressman Kahn to Petersen is enclosed, saying that Petersen is entitled to a hearing. The board was glad to have been helpful in exonerating Huber and Petersen's brother.

Charges that Hagan took this action for political capital preceding an election were immediately made. Cedric Petersen, attorney for defendant, Walter J. Petersen, asserted that the matter simply concerned Huber's affairs and not the present case. Petersen further asserted that the present action of the board in such a matter would be retroactive anyhow, and that the board has no right to sit in the matter.

"You are a judicial body," said Hagan.

"We will proceed without the affidavit," said Chairman Chambers of the board.

The board "stood pat" about receiving the matter as part of the Petersen matter. Hagan insisted time and again. The discussion lasted an hour with comments from every one. Finally the board ruled that it be "filed for consideration" and this compromise ended the session.

Because Tuesday night is election night the board meets Thursday, November 4.

TWO DIE FROM HURTS RECEIVED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Injured in automobile accidents in Oakland and Emeryville, M. C. Murphy, 65 years, of 1045 Cain's avenue, Albany, and C. A. Porter, 274 Fifth street, San Francisco, died today at Roosevelt hospital in Berkeley.

Both suffered fractured skulls and internal injuries.

Murphy was struck by an automobile driven by John Biasoli, 932 Sixty-third street, Oakland, as he was crossing San Pablo avenue at Twenty-third street. He was rushed to the Roosevelt hospital after receiving emergency treatment in Oakland.

Murphy and his wife had been making their home with their son, Edward Murphy, in Albany. The former's death followed the wedding of his son to Miss Anna Dunn, which was celebrated last week. He is survived by a son and daughter.

The other accident took place at Forty-eighth and San Pablo, when an automobile driven by Fred Ian, 2417 Franklin street, Berkeley, and containing Misses Smith, crashed into a buggy at 1:30 o'clock this morning. Porter, the driver of the buggy, was thrown to the pavement and rendered unconscious.

Uncle Niles Turner went over to Sharp's Cross Roads Friday to watch the accident. Miss Gert Moats is maid of Mrs. Eva Tanger's child.

LUNAR ECLIPSE OBSCURED BY FOG IN BAY DISTRICT

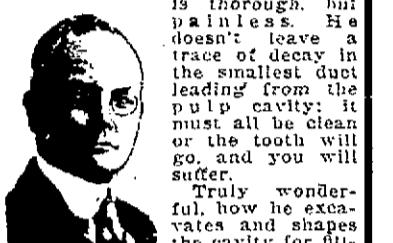

Many people in the bay district were disappointed at 5:29 o'clock this morning, there was a total eclipse of the moon at that time, but no one saw the phenomenon. Fog, great banks of it, rolled in from the Farallones and hid the moon from the earth.

In many homes the alarm clock sang its merry tune shortly after 5 o'clock, the head of the house got up, yawned, went to the window and then returned to bed, just as happy as if he had seen the phenomenon in all its beauty.

Professor Albert Porta, who has made astounding predictions of earthquakes, typhoons and storms, which have occurred according to his prognostications, does not see any serious results from the total eclipse of the moon, which was full, a phenomenon that occurs once or twice a century.

He predicts unsettled weather conditions here, followed by a stormy period. From the 23rd to the 29th it will be found throughout the greater portion of the state, with storms along the coast.
